

R

- Practical implication: at least 24 months of historical data should be targeted for backfill, since that's the deepest look-back the tool's own indicators already require to have full cohort cont

- Management's existing Power BI report continues to work unmodified against the platform's export.
- No DQA data is lost or misattributed during migration from the current Excel-based process.